

Photography & Content Submission Agreement

By His Grace Studios

This agreement outlines the terms under which clients of By His Grace Studios submit photographs and content for use in website design, wedding websites, and related creative services. It applies to all clients submitting content for any paid or booked service.

1. Submission Format

All photographs and image-based content must be submitted via email only to preserve original quality. Content sent via WhatsApp, social media, or screenshots will not be accepted for final design use unless explicitly agreed upon.

2. Ownership of Submitted Content

By submitting content to By His Grace Studios, the client confirms that:

- They own the rights to the submitted content or have written permission from the original photographer/creator to use it.
- No copyrighted content from third parties is submitted without authorization.

By His Grace Studios is not responsible for legal consequences resulting from unauthorized content submitted by the client.

3. Usage Rights

Submitted content is used strictly for the purposes of fulfilling the client's project brief. By His Grace Studios does not claim ownership over client-submitted content.

However, if a client requests promotional features (such as being included in a portfolio, magazine, or showcase), they must confirm that the content is cleared for public sharing.

4. Content Limits by Package

Each package includes specific limits:

- Gallery images (as per quotation or policy)
- Accommodation listings (max. 5 unless add-ons are purchased)
- Sections (e.g. wedding story, program, etc.) must align with the content form or be quoted separately.

Additional content outside the agreed package will incur additional charges.

5. File Handling & Design Freedom

By His Grace Studios reserves the right to crop, optimize, compress, or resize images for better performance or layout consistency on websites.

Where image quality is poor or unusable, the client will be notified and may be asked to resubmit higher-quality files.

6. Project Delays Due to Missing Content

All required content must be submitted before the project can begin. Turnaround time only starts once full payment and all required information have been received.

Delays in submitting content will result in delays to the design timeline. No refunds will be issued for such delays.

7. Agreement

By submitting content and proceeding with the project, the client confirms they have read, understood, and agreed to the above terms.
